Entry Requirements:

Entry requirements are subject to regular review. The entry requirements applicable to a particular academic year will be published on the University website (and externally as appropriate e.g. UCAS)

The entry requirements for the MSc International Business Management are:

- Any undergraduate degree from a UK university or overseas equivalent, or a professional qualification and/or experience considered to be equivalent to the above;
- A reference from a tutor who has supervised the applicant's undergraduate studies and/or employer;
- Students may apply for recognition of prior learning (RPL) subject to the guidelines set out in the RPL Handbook. RPL includes accreditation of prior certificated learning and /or accreditation of prior experiential learning.
- Please check our minimum language entry requirements/before submitting your application.
- We offer a range programmes in English as a Foreign Language if you don't meet these requirements

Applications are also welcome from individuals who do not possess the above qualifications but who have significant management experience and are able to demonstrate previous non-certificated learning equivalent to the above. In such cases, admission to the programme will be based on an evaluation of the applicant's ability to continue to benefit from and achieve the award.

Distinctive Features of the Course:

In today's highly dynamic global environment, a complexity of factors, including global logistics, supply chain management, technology, finance, HR, marketing and cross-border management, have a significant impact on business systems and functions. As such this programme is designed to develop the mix of skills, knowledge and understanding you need as a manager with a global mindset. The MSc IBM has been designed to be equally applicable to those with wide ranging managerial experience or management education and those who come with limited knowledge in these areas. You will be provided opportunities to develop a blend of functional and operational perspectives for a range of managerial levels, roles and responsibilities in an international setting. You will integrate and contextualise your knowledge and skills in a range of modules which have an international focus.

Educational Aims of the Course:

This course enables entry onto the MSc International Business Management if you did not gain a first or second class honours at degree level (or equivalent). It will add to your existing skills and knowledge providing you with enhanced understanding and abilities which will prepare you for Masters courses, whilst also providing English support if you need help in this area

The MSc International Business Management offers an exciting opportunity to develop your knowledge in an area of high growth and global demand. The MSc IBM has been developed to offer you the opportunity to engage with a number of specific subjects relevant to global, national, and local business. Students who are considering starting their own company, joining a graduate training scheme with a multinational, or developing a broader understanding of international business will not only find the course highly relevant, but equally rewarding towards developing future career prospects in established and emerging global markets.

The programme delivery of the MSc IBM benefits from a number of close links with large multinational enterprises and innovative agile firms in providing a rich, exciting and challenging active learning environment. The team of Professors and Senior Academics on the course provide an extensive level of expertise in their respective disciplines from research to practitioner background. This will enrich your learning experience in a dynamic environment where you will be expected to participate at the highest level towards furnishing you with a Masters Degree for your future career.

The comprehensive study of management and the use of a range of learning strategies such as live case studies, visiting industry speakers and a wide range of active learning approaches will enhance your career in business and management.

Teaching, Learning and Assessment:

A variety of interactive learning activities will support the achievement of the course learning outcomes. Learning will involve both classroom engagement and out of classroom activities including the use of blended learning environments. Personal reflection, collaborative and active learning will be vital components of this course.

Students will encounter a number of learning activities during a variety of formal lectures, seminars and tutorials. The course will make use of case studies, problem solving activities, discussions (both structured and unstructured), action learning sets, evaluation of online and documentary resources and guest speaker inputs.

Students will be expected, and directed, to read from a range of appropriate relevant sources, including academic journals. Students will work autonomously as well as interactively within group exercises and engage with peer learning.

Where appropriate visiting speakers, external visits and real-time (as opposed to text book) case based activities will add a practical dimension to the learning process. Recognising the rich potential learning from the workplace, opportunities to work with organisations will be maximised.

Students will experience a range of assessment methods to demonstrate achievement of the learning outcomes (both formative and summative). Variety and innovation in assessment across modules is a positive feature of this course. An assessment tariff will apply to ensure some degree of consistency in assessment loading between equally weighted modules. All assessment tasks will be commensurate with study at postgraduate level.

Underpinning the assessment policy within this course are a number of principles, including clarity (about what the assessment task involves), transparency (how grades are arrived at) validity (grades awarded are fair and appropriate), equity of treatment, performance measurement and reliability. Assessment should provide a learning opportunity for the student, through the task set, and promote improvement in performance in the future through the feedback provided.

Assessment will include both individual and group exercises. Emphasis will be placed upon a synthesis of academic best practice contextualised within work place realities. Students will be required to produce critiques of theory and research, case study analyses, personal reflection and development portfolios, skills audits and action plans. Across the course there will be a use of in class tests, verbal presentations, and written submissions including reports, essays, projects, and plans.

Formative assessment and feedback opportunities will be provided through presentations, role plays, tutorials, coaching and mentoring sessions, as well as feedback on written work.

Student Support:

In providing flexible and interactive e-learning opportunities to meet student needs, e-learning components will be designed to form an integral feature of the learning, teaching and support. The University VLE provides a platform for doing this and will be the primary focus of the online supported learning dimension of the module. In addition to making use of the online databases and other software resources available through LIS and ITS, students will be encouraged to consider the potential benefits of using Pebble Pad as a practical aid to research activity and career planning.

Flexible and interactive e-learning opportunities will also be offered to on-line distance learning students. The University VLE provides a platform for learning materials and activities to support online learning across all modules. A cohesive package of e-learning components has been designed to compensate for a lack of traditional classroom contact by presenting an integrated package of learning, teaching and support. All e-learners will be supported by online tutors. In addition e-learners will make use of the online databases and other software resources available through LIS, including learning skills support and ITS.

A Personal Tutor is allocated to every student. Personal Tutors maintain regular communication (virtual and/or face-to-face) with each of their designated tutees. Follow up meetings are arranged with students who are not making satisfactory progress or who are at risk of withdrawal. Personal Tutors assist students in their personal and academic development, planning and progression as well as offering students advice and guidance to help them liaise with other staff and support facilities in their school and the University, including study skills support.

The Course Leader will monitor the academic and experiential quality of the Course through Award Boards, focus groups and other channels. The Course Leader also supports and directs students proactively on the Course, both collectively and individually, and responds to inquiries and requests from students with regard to the academic programme of study.

The Faculty Enabling Tutor (FET) liaises with the Student Enabling Centre (SEC) regarding provision for specific disabled students & disseminates information from the SEC on the needs of specific disabled students. The SNT also monitors requests for, and provision of, specific examination and assessment arrangements, publicise SNT 'surgery' arrangements and make available time to meet with individual disabled students to enable them to discuss their own school-specific disability issues where necessary. The SNT takes a pro-active role in monitoring the welfare and academic progress of disabled students within the school.

Employability in the Curriculum:

Successful completion of the MSc International Business Management provides a much sought after academic qualification which will enhance your career prospects in a number of managerial roles across a wide range of international business sectors. The MSc International Business Management may provide the basis for further study in a range of professional subject areas such as accounting, marketing and human resources as well as further academic study such as a PhD.
