Distinctive Features of the Course:

Practical Experience: An opportunity at the first two levels of the course to undertake a placement module which will provide invaluable practical experience.

Pastoral support: We pride ourselves in our supportive culture with a large team of academic and student support staff to provide excellent pastoral care and support together with a welcoming academic environment in which to undertake your degree.

Research-led: Our research-led teaching ensures that you will be learning about the very latest debates in policy and practice.

The combination of Social Policy and Law allows students to combine key areas of knowledge that recognise the ways in which our lives are regulated not only by legal constraints, but also by key areas of government intervention. Examples such as welfare, immigration and localism all illustrate the coming together of legal frameworks and political goals. Consequently, the joint study of Social Policy and Law places students in a position to interpret and analyse the social and political context of law making as well as the legal basis of policy development. With such an applied and comprehensive understanding, graduates will be well equipped to work within a diverse range of jobs and employers.

A placement can be undertaken anywhere; local, national or even, in some instances, international. During a placement, you will be doing similar work to a normal employee of the organisation giving you a unique insight into your chosen profession or sector, the opportunity to acquire crucial personal skills and also the opportunity to build a network of useful contacts. Many companies that employ graduates use placement programmes as a method of recruitment so you could be fast tracked into employment or onto one of their graduate schemes if you impress them.

The team at The Workplace constantly search for new placement opportunities but if you find an opportunity that interests you or you have been successful in securing one yourself, contact them for further information and support.

Educational Aims of the Course:

The BA (Hons) Law and Social Policy course aims to provide students with the knowledge and understanding of legal aspects and implications of social policy affecting today's society, the theories and their strategic applications operating within a changing global environment. Through the use of a wide range of concepts, approaches and learning techniques the course intends to equip students with a range of personal and intellectual skills and an awareness in preparation for a career within this sphere with the added legal knowledge to enhance their abilities within this chosen area of employment.

Teaching, Learning and Assessment:

Learning will be face to face and on-line and will consist of the following:

Lectures

Seminars

Tutorials

Debates

Small and large group work

Discussion forums and wikis

Student presentations

Work- and community- based learning through placements (to support employability skills)

Research activities

Independent and guided study

Collaborative on-line tasks and activities

Individual on-line tasks and activities

Video and image analysis

Case studies

Role play

The on-line activities and electronic presentations the students will prepare will support their digital literacy.

The group tasks and seminars will support students' enterprising ideas.

The international perspectives to topics taken in lectures and learning tasks will support students' global citizenship.

Student Support:

Study skills (such as referencing and writing for academic purposes) are embedded in some modules at level 4 and extended at levels 5 and 6.

Students will receive feedback informally throughout the modules and formally through written feedback for their formative and summative assignments. This feedback will be constructive and indicate to students how to progress in their learning.

All students will have a personal tutor to support their progress throughout their course. Academic Skills tutors provide additional learning support and resources for students. There is a Directorate of Academic Support available to advise on academic study skills. Students are further supported by dedicated administrative support staff who are aligned to courses and or subject areas. The academic skills centre provides learning support and resources in groups and individually.

Employability in the Curriculum:

Students who graduate with a degree in Social Policy and Law will be well placed for a range of careers in the public and private sectors for example in policy writing or advice work. Students can also continue their studies by taking post-graduate courses in a range of social science or law based subjects.

The completion of a Sandwich Year will enable you to gain valuable hands on experience in a relevant work environment. This will not only provide additional practical subject skills but it will also develop personal transferable skills such as communication skills, problem solving skills and demonstrate competency in working with other people. This will increase your employability and assist you in gaining employment in the future.
