Learning, Teaching and Assessment

Academic Regulations Exemption:

The Committee received a request from the Faculty of Arts (FoA) seeking advice from a framework perspective on the use of PebblePad as the main Virtual Learning Experience (VLE) by the Academy of Music & Sound (AMS). It was noted that existing programmes were delivered by 'on-line' Distance Learning in collaboration with AMS at various premises around the U.K. and they had made a substantial investment to support learning with PebblePad.

APPROVED BY AFRSC 22.06.17 (for 2017/2018 only, subject to confirmation from 2018/2019 onwards).

Teaching, Learning and Assessment:

Throughout the programme, and with increasing emphasis and sophistication as students' progress, independent study skills will be cultivated. This will include undertaking various tasks, student directed activities and projects but most importantly on this award the student will engage with a real time developmental performance, its creation, production, marketing and critical evaluation. Problem based learning is a method which encourages students to 'learn-to-learn', in seeking solutions to real problems.

Some of the main key skills employers look for when recruiting graduates are problem-solving skills, the ability to critically analyse and evaluate situations, to find, and use constructively appropriate learning resources and to propose relevant outcomes. Learners will be expected to engage in the funding, sponsorship, budgeting and auditing of the performance whilst applying skills in market intelligence in audience related issues. In a real world scenario learners will work to clear time constraints taking the student out of the university classroom and into industry settings thereby gaining an opportunity to work with industry professionals and to embrace all three art forms in a contemporary setting. Students will learn to correlate previously learnt disciplines including marketing, planning, venue assessment and produce material for a clearly targeted audience.

Student Support:

Students can access a range of online skills material at: www.wlv.ac.uk/lib/skills

The University Student Support website offers advice on a variety of matters (careers, counselling, student union advice, etc.)

Course Specific Support

Students on this course will benefit from a range of support. At an operational level within the Academy of Music and Sound, students are able to receive guidance from the Mentor or specific Module Tutor, and if needed, from the Vice Principal for Curriculum and Quality. In addition, students will have access to a Personal Tutor independent of their programme of study who will assist them in both academic and personal development.

Employability in the Curriculum:

All academic briefs are inspired by real-life industry examples and as such challenge the student to work in real time scenarios with realistic industry deadlines in mind.

Employability skills are embedded into the curriculum across the following modules:

6MU010

6LI001

6MU029
